| Research program                    | Relational Awakening Research.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| Founder and Principal Investigator  | Jason Butler, MD, MPH. TFRI has designated Dr. Butler as Principal Investigator for the planned Relational Awakening research program, subject to study-specific IRB, sponsor, and institutional requirements.                                                                                        |
| Human-research-protection education | Completed the five-part HHS Office for Human Research Protections Human Research Protection Training sequence on June 11, 2026. Additional CITI, sponsor, institutional, or IRB-specific training will be completed if required.                                                                      |
| Current research status             | Study enrollment is not open. The independent human-research-protection or IRB pathway, final research-data custody, and the production study system must be finalized before participant research begins.                                                                                            |
| Federal registration                | TFRI is obtaining its own Unique Entity Identifier (UEI) and related federal-registration infrastructure.                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| Technical support                   | RMD Centers is a separate nonprofit founded and led by Jason Butler and currently provides technical and infrastructure support in kind. This support does not by itself make RMD Centers the study sponsor, IRB, REDCap host, legal research organization, or institutional research-data custodian. |

This fact sheet summarizes current organizational records and owner-authorized research leadership. It is not an IRB approval notice, study-enrollment notice, or representation that every funder, sponsor, or institution has accepted TFRI's eligibility or research arrangements.
