

Research readiness update

September 25, 2026 | Status addendum v0.1

Twin-Flames Research Initiative, Inc. (TFRI) supports the Relational Awakening Research program. Jason Butler, MD, MPH is the designated Principal Investigator. This addendum updates selected readiness facts; it does not replace the original corporate or training records.

Selected IRB

TFRI has selected Solutions IRB as the Institutional Review Board for Study 1. Selecting an IRB is separate from receiving study-specific approval or a determination. This update does not announce recruitment, enrollment, or participant-data collection.

Additional human-research-protection training

Jason Butler completed Social and Behavioral Ethical Human Research Training on September 16, 2026. The certificate states that it is valid for 3 years from the date of completion. This additional training was completed to meet the training requirements specified by Solutions IRB, as reported by the Principal Investigator. The previously documented OHRP training remains on record.

REDCap environment

TFRI has established its REDCap environment for research data management. It is separate from the public website. Study-specific configuration and authorization to begin participant-data collection are separate from establishing the environment. This addendum does not certify technical validation, regulatory compliance, or study activation.

Public contact addresses

Research questions

research@relational-awakening.org

General and accessibility inquiries

contact@relational-awakening.org

Website corrections

corrections@relational-awakening.org

These addresses are for questions and website correspondence, not screening, consent, enrollment, or study-data submission. Please do not email study responses, detailed personal histories, health records, or information identifying another person.